✓ Beam acquired by Suntory for $16bn
✓ Exited General Growth Properties
✓ Initiated investment in and facilitated sale of AGN
✓ Regulatory investigations of HLF and deteriorating business fundamentals
✓ Seifi Ghasemi hired as Air Products CEO
✓ Initiated investment in Zoetis
✓ BKW merged with Tim Hortons
✓ $2.8bn IPO of Pershing Square Holdings
Allergan Inc.

- At investment inception, ~$37bn market cap specialty pharmaceutical company
- Leader in aesthetics, dermatology, and ophthalmology
- In February 2014, Pershing Square formed JV with Valeant to assist in Allergan merger
- Between February 25th and April 21st, Pershing Square acquired stock and options representing 9.7% of Allergan at an average cost of $128/share representing 28% of Pershing Square’s capital at cost
- On April 22nd, Valeant and Pershing Square announced an unsolicited offer to acquire Allergan for $153 per share, a 40% premium to Allergan’s unaffected stock price
- On November 17th, Allergan agreed to sell to Actavis for $219 per share in cash and stock representing a 75% premium to Pershing Square’s initial purchase
Allergan Investment Thesis

Strategic rationale of a Valeant/Allergan merger

- Allergan has a strong track record of organic growth driven by a portfolio of market leading products, including the fast-growing Botox franchise
- Allergan has a poor track record of capital allocation and cost management
- Given the strategic overlap between Valeant and Allergan’s product portfolios and Valeant’s superior cost structure, operating model and capital allocation strategy, we believed a merger between Valeant and Allergan had the potential to create enormous shareholder value

Limited downside

- We invested in Allergan at a valuation that reflected the fair value of the business, assuming no improvements in operations or a transaction
Structure of the Transaction

- Pershing Square and Valeant formed a co-bidder entity

- The co-bidder entity was formed with the intent to
  - Make an investment in Allergan
  - Assist Valeant in consummating a merger between Valeant and Allergan

- Valeant invested the HSR limit of $75.9mm and Pershing Square contributed the balance of the required capital
Allergan’s Response to the Unsolicited Offer

▶ Despite a large premium offer, the Allergan board’s response was hostile and anti-shareholder
  ✖ Threats to engage in preclusive transactions
  ✖ Refusal to engage with all bidders
  ✖ Attacks against Valeant’s business
  ✖ Obstruction of Special Meeting and shareholder rights

▶ Allergan’s response warranted a change in the board

▶ Despite extraordinarily onerous special meeting bylaws, Pershing Square received support from shareholders holding ~36% (greater than 25% required) of Allergan shares to call a Special Meeting on December 18th, 2014

▶ Only after failing in California Federal Court litigation to bar Pershing Square from voting to remove directors did Allergan sign a confidentiality agreement with a second bidder, Actavis, to negotiate the sale of the company
Allergan: Share Price Performance

Allergan stock increased 80% including dividends from inception of our position to date, or 71% including dividends from inception to YE 2014

Stock price performance of Allergan from 2/25/2014 to 1/23/2015

- 2/25/14: Pershing Square purchases first Allergan shares at ~$125 per share

Herbalife: It’s a Pyramid Scheme

All facts continue to confirm that Herbalife is a pyramid scheme

- Video obtained of a meeting of corporate executives and top distributors discussing ‘a level of inauthenticity’ in the business

- No material retail sales
  - HLF spent over $47 million defending itself, but refuses to collect retail sales information
  - Gratziani: “[S]uccessful people in retailing in our business, it’s a very small percentage. . . . The majority of our people have a difficulty in selling products, in general.”

- Deceptive recruitment practices and exaggerated income claims

Source: Herbalife financial statements. Q4’E based on the midpoint or Herbalife guidance as reported November 3rd, 2014.
HLF took on substantial leverage in 2014 to fuel an aggressive buyback program and bolster a falling share price. With an $1B credit facility maturing in March 2016, Herbalife is running out of options.
Air Products ("APD"): Investment Thesis

- High-quality, simple, predictable, free-cash-flow generative business
  - Global oligopoly enjoys attractive returns due to local incumbency advantages driven by the high transportation costs of the product
  - Stability: diversified, contracted, buffered from macro, inflation, and input costs
  - Decades of secular growth at 1.5-2.0x industrial production

- Substantial untapped potential, cheap “as-fixed”
  - Decades of underperformance, but shortfalls are fixable
  - We believe APD’s EBIT margins (16%) can approach comparable Praxair (22%)
    - Key is improving productivity and capital allocation
  - Potential to substantially improve the earnings base in medium term
  - At our average cost of $98/share, we believe APD shares did not reflect latent opportunity

Activist engagement could help realize latent potential and generate attractive returns with modest risk of permanent capital loss

Pershing Square’s agreement with the Board entailed three new directors and a retirement of the former CEO with a search process for a new CEO commenced promptly
APD has a New CEO with a Great Track Record

- In June, Air Products appointed a new CEO, Seifi Ghasemi, who has a great track record of creating shareholder value
  - Two decades as senior leader of industrial gas company BOC
  - Last decade leading Rockwood, a specialty chemicals business
    - ROC TSR = 320% vs. S&P 106% and Chemicals 193%

- Seifi has a strong shareholder orientation and produces results
  - Focus on capital allocation
  - Runs a decentralized organization which drives accountability

- Seifi has purchased $10mm of APD stock

Source: Bloomberg.
APD is Beginning a Significant Transformation

APD has announced a plan to improve performance to industry-best levels

- Seifi’s plan to improve performance rests on five core principles:
  1) Focus on the core
  2) Restructure the organization
  3) Change the company culture
  4) Control capital / costs
  5) Align rewards

- Target to increase EBIT margins from 16% to ~22.5% to achieve performance levels in line with its well-run competitor Praxair:
  - Of this 650bps of improvement, half is expected to come from SG&A and overhead and half from operational efficiencies and productivity

- Early results are encouraging, highlighted by impressive FY Q4 results:
  - Earnings per share 10% above best quarter in company history
  - 17.9% EBIT margin highest in nine years, SG&A reduced 7% in the quarter
  - Strong FY Q1 results

- CP announced new four-year targets at its October Analyst Day:
  - 2018 revenue of $10bn, implying a 10.5% compound annual growth rate.

Howard Hughes Corporation

- HHC was created by Pershing Square
  - Formed so that certain GGP assets, whose full value would not be realized in a REIT, could receive recognition in the public markets and appropriate management attention

- Comprised of development assets, master planned communities, and income-producing properties with significant upside potential

- In a short period of time, management has designed and launched development and/or monetization plans for each asset

- Residential land holdings and commercial investments within these communities make HHC well positioned to benefit from a housing recovery

We believe that the potential for value creation of the portfolio continues to be substantial relative to the market price of HHC

Fannie Mae & Freddie Mac (GSEs)

- The GSEs are vital to the U.S. mortgage market and there is no other credible alternative to replace them.
- In 2013, the Government began stripping all profits from the GSEs and sending them to Treasury every quarter, in perpetuity.
- The net worth sweep is an unlawful taking of shareholders' private property.
- The net worth sweep is an untenable economic arrangement that prevents the GSEs from building capital and subjects taxpayers to grave risk.
- In September 2014, the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia dismissed shareholder lawsuits seeking to enjoin the net worth sweep.
- We and other shareholders are pursuing lawsuits in other courts, including the U.S. Court of Federal Claims, which adjudicates unlawful takings claims.

We remain convinced that Treasury’s net worth sweep will ultimately be reversed and the GSEs’ future share prices will be a large multiple of their current prices.

Additional Disclaimers and Notes to Performance Results

Presentation of Performance Results and Other Data
The performance results of PSH and Pershing Square, L.P., the Pershing Square fund with the longest performance track record, included in this presentation are presented on a gross and net-of-fees basis. Gross and net performance include the reinvestment of all dividends, interest, and capital gains, and reflect the deduction of, among other things, brokerage commissions and administrative expenses. Net performance reflects the deduction of management fees and accrued performance fee/allocation, if any. All performance provided herein assumes an investor has been invested in PSH or Pershing Square, L.P. since their respective inception dates and participated in any “new issues,” as such term is defined under Rules 5130 and 5131 of FINRA. Depending on timing of a specific investment and participation in “new issues,” net performance for an individual investor may vary from the net performance as stated herein. Performance data for 2014 and 2015 is estimated and unaudited.

Pershing Square, L.P.’s net returns for 2004 were calculated net of a $1.5 million (approximately 3.9%) annual management fee and performance allocation equal to 20% above a 6% hurdle, in accordance with the terms of the limited partnership agreement of Pershing Square, L.P., which was later amended to provide for a 1.5% annual management fee and 20% performance allocation effective January 1, 2005. In addition, pursuant to a separate agreement, in 2004 the sole unaffiliated limited partner paid Pershing Square Capital Management, L.P., an additional $840,000 for overhead expenses in connection with services provided unrelated to Pershing Square, L.P. To the extent such amounts had been included in the management fee charged to the fund, net returns would have been lower.

The market index shown in this presentation, the S&P 500, has been selected for purposes of comparing the performance of an investment in the Pershing Square funds with a well-known, broad-based equity benchmark. The statistical data regarding the index has been obtained from Bloomberg and the returns are calculated on a gross basis. The funds are reinvested in those securities which comprise this index, their performance may or may not correlate to the index and it should not be considered a proxy for the index. The volatility of an index may materially differ from the volatility of the Pershing Square funds’ portfolio. The S&P 500 is comprised of a representative sample of 500 large-cap companies. The index is an unmanaged, float-weighted index with each stock’s weight in the index in proportion to its float, as determined by Standard & Poors. The S&P 500 index is proprietary to and is calculated, distributed and marketed by S&P Opco, LLC (a subsidiary of S&P Dow Jones Indices LLC), its affiliates and/or its licensors and has been licensed for use. S&P® and S&P 500®, among other famous marks, are registered trademarks of Standard & Poor’s Financial Services LLC. © 2014 S&P Dow Jones Indices LLC, its affiliates and/or its licensors. The performance attributions to the gross returns provided on page 8 are for illustrative purposes only. On page 8, each position with contribution to returns of at least 50 basis points (when rounded to the nearest tenth) is shown separately. Positions with smaller contributions are aggregated. On page 8, each position detracting 50 basis points (when rounded to the nearest tenth) or more from returns is shown separately. Positions detracting less than 50 basis points are aggregated. Returns were calculated taking into account currency hedges, if any. These gross returns do not reflect deduction of management fees and accrued performance fee/allocation. These returns (and attributions) do not reflect certain other fund expenses (e.g., administrative expenses). Inclusion of such fees/allocations and expenses would produce lower returns than presented here. Please refer to the net performance figures presented on page 5 of this presentation.

Share price performance data is provided for illustrative purposes only and is not an indication of actual returns to the Pershing Square funds over the periods presented or future returns of PSH. Additionally, it should not be assumed that any of the changes in shares prices of the investments listed herein indicate that the investment recommendations or decisions that Pershing Square makes in the future will be profitable or will generate values equal to those of the companies discussed herein. All share price performance data calculated “to date” is calculated through February 23, 2015.

Past performance is not necessarily indicative of future results. All investments involve the possibility of profit and the risk of loss, including the loss of principal. This presentation does not constitute a recommendation, an offer to sell or a solicitation of an offer to purchase any security or investment product. Nothing contained herein constitutes investment, legal, tax or other advice nor is it to be relied on in making an investment or other decision. All information is current as of the date hereof and is subject to change in the future.

Risk Factors

Investors in PSH may lose all, or substantially all, of their investment in PSH. Any person acquiring shares in PSH must be able to bear the risks involved. These include, among other things, the following:

- PSH is exposed to a concentration of investments, which could exacerbate volatility and investment risk;
- Activist investment strategies may not be successful and may result in significant costs and expenses;
- Pershing Square may fail to identify suitable investment opportunities. In addition, the due diligence performed by Pershing Square before investing may not reveal all relevant facts in connection with an investment;
- While Pershing Square may use litigation in pursuit of activist investment strategies, Pershing Square itself and PSH may be the subject of litigation or regulatory investigation;
- Pershing Square may participate substantially in the affairs of portfolio companies, which may result in PSH’s inability to purchase or sell the securities of such companies;
- PSH may invest in derivative instruments or maintain positions that carry particular risks. Short selling exposes PSH to the risk of theoretically unlimited losses;
- PSH’s non-U.S. currency investments may be affected by fluctuations in currency exchange rates;
- Adverse changes affecting the global financial markets and economy may have a material negative impact on the performance of PSH’s investments;
- Changes in laws or regulations, or a failure to comply with any laws and regulations, may adversely affect PSH’s business, investments and results of operations;
- Pershing Square is dependent on William A. Ackman;
- PS Holdings Independent Voting Company Limited controls a majority of the voting power of all of PSH’s shares;
- PSH shares may trade at a discount to NAV and their price may fluctuate significantly and potential investors could lose all or part of their investment;
- The ability of potential investors to transfer their PSH shares may be limited by the impact on the liquidity of the PSH shares resulting from restrictions imposed by ERISA and similar regulations, as well as a 4.75 per cent. ownership limit;
- PSH is exposed to changes in tax laws or regulations, or their interpretation; and
- PSH may invest in United States real property holding corporations which could cause PSH to be subject to tax under the United States Foreign Investment in Real Property Tax Act.
